

Re: nanoNEXUS 2013 Invitation

We are excited to announce that nanoNEXUS 2013 is approaching fast. If you attended last year, you already know that over 200 students, industry members, and government representatives with vested interest in Edmonton's micro/nano community were present. We believe that building the community is essential for success of the local industry. We want to make sure that every part of the community is represented, so we hope that you will accept this invitation to attend the event.

There will be lots of researchers, students, and professionals working in micro/nanotech at the event and it would be a great opportunity to expose your organization to the community. The evening will include a reception, networking sessions, and a Dragon's Den style competition called nexusPITCH for students. You should also look forward to an address from Micralyne CEO Mike Ciprick entitled "Micralyne – A Case Study on Managing a High Tech Company through an Insolvency Crisis".

The event will be held in Enterprise Square downtown on March 7, 2013 (6-9pm) and has a $10 cover charge ($50 value – includes a drink). The event webpage can be found here: <http://nanonex.us.ca> and you can buy tickets here: www.nanonex.us.eventbrite.com

In addition, I would like to ask you to forward this invitation to members of your organization and/or professionals in your network who might be interested.

Please let me know if you have any questions,

All the best,
